

UCLA

Student Learning Outcomes for the B.A. in Gender Studies

Students completing the Gender Studies B.A. will:

- demonstrate a working knowledge of the field of gender studies.
- understand key theoretical approaches to the study of women, gender and sexuality.
- demonstrate the ability to construct well-written analytic essays and give an oral presentation for a seminar or other suitable venue.
- conduct a research project that involves the consultation of scholarly literatures and presentation of evidence to support an argument.